

Worplesdon Primary School – Weekly Update

Dear Parents / Carers,

11th October 2019

In English we have started reading a new book called The Butterfly Lion by Michael Morpurgo. We have lots of books by this excellent author in the library if the children would like to read anything else written by him!

All of the children are also signed up to BugClub now and have their log in details in the back of their reading diaries. Please let one of the Y5 team know if your child has any difficulties logging on.

In Maths we have started adding and subtracting using counters to exchange, progressing on to the standard written method (column addition and subtraction).

In Topic we have been working as part of a team to carry out research on an individual who has left their legacy on Britain. We will be giving group presentations to the rest of the class to share what we have found out.

Please could we remind you to ensure that your child brings a coat into school every day. Again, if you have any spare children's coats at home then we would be extremely grateful for any that could be sent into school for us to keep as spares for any children who may need them.

Most of the children are remembering to bring their PE kits in every day – the children may choose to bring in grey tracksuit bottoms too as the weather is getting colder. Our outdoor PE day is currently on a Monday. We have had a big donation of trainers for the Y5 spare kit collection but if anyone has any t-shirts, shorts or tracksuit bottoms then these would be greatly received too!

Thank you to everyone who has booked an appointment at one of our Parent Consultation Evenings. We look forward to seeing you there and discussing your child's progress as well as giving you chance to look through their work so far this year!

Kind regards,

The Year 5 Team
