

Worplesdon Primary School – Weekly Update

Dear Parents / Carers,

Friday 6th March 2020

Book week has been full of fun and engaging activities. Earlier on in the week, we shared the story 'The Lorax' with the children. The children then took part in a dance workshop, which consisted of them bringing the book to life by dancing and creating movements to music. We were impressed with the enthusiasm and effort the children demonstrated. Furthermore, the children took part in a book character competition; created pieces of art linked to 'The Lorax' and every day listened to a book of their choice read by a teacher.

The final set of mock SATs will be take place the week beginning 23rd March. We are going to ensure that these set of mocks will mirror how the real SATs will run. For example, which room they take them in and the number of adults used.

This week we told the children that the Year 5 and 6 production this year is 'The Lion King'. We are all very excited about this and will be linking this to a brand new topic in the summer term called Africa.

Recently, a parent mail was sent to parents regarding a SATs information evening. We are asking you to vote for which time is most suitable for you. Please can you do this before Wednesday. Furthermore, once we have received the results we will inform you of the date and time that is agreeable for the majority.

Next week, the children will be taking part in a cheerleading workshop run by an external visitor. Please can we ask that children have their PE kit in school every day.

Thank you for your continued support; we hope you all have a lovely weekend.
