

Worplesdon Primary School – Weekly Update

Friday 4th March

Dear Parents / Carers,

This week has been a really exciting week with some AMAZING costumes showcased during World Book Day yesterday. Thank you to everybody who made such an effort in their dressing up, especially the hand made costumes! We know the time and effort that goes into making these costumes so effective.

During the week, we have spent time learning from a real-life author, hearing about the book writing process, participated in a drama workshop re-enacting scenes from Matilda as well as visiting the Book Fair. There is still time to purchase books online for this with up to 60% of the total raised being donated in EXTRA FREE BOOKS to the school!

This week in maths, we continued our unit on fractions. We have made it really clear to the children that fractions have clear links with Times Tables and therefore those who are less confident, should be practising regularly on Times Tables Rockstars to support their tables knowledge.

Over the coming weeks, we will be covering the Relationship and Sex Education topic of Puberty. This will involve the boys and girls learning about the changes in their bodies. We will ensure that all children have an understanding of the changes that males and females experience in order to foster a deep understanding of others. If you would like to talk to your child about this beforehand, we do encourage this. We also encourage children to ask questions of their parents after the lesson as well. We will not post the lesson on Google Classroom until after we have taught it in school as we would only encourage children to access it with a parent or after the lesson in school.

Finally, we are very much looking forward to seeing everyone at Parents Evening next week. We will be sending the Interim Reports home on Monday, alongside the children's Maths and English books for you to have a look through. Please can these be returned to school on Tuesday morning, so that they are ready for learning the next day.

Thank you for your continued support.
