

Worpleston Primary School – Weekly Update

Dear Parents/Carers,

Another week has passed here at school, the children have continued to show commitment and enthusiasm to their learning. We continue to be very proud of them. The children have been living by our school values of curiosity and resilience, this was particularly apparent in our Science investigation this week, where the children created parachutes. They then had a final drop of the parachutes to determine the most successful design!

We have also had some brilliant Art lessons this week linked to our topic 'Africa'. The children have all shown their creative flair when replicating African patterns and we have also begun the process of planning and designing masks which will be used in our production of The Lion King. How exciting!

As you know during the Summer term, we will be heading off on our residential. The children are already very excited! Can we please give a polite and gentle reminder about payments for this as another one is due.

Lastly, we have attached a fantastic and helpful poster linked to supporting your child with anxious feelings. We are very aware with a week to go until SATs, feelings of anxiety may be very apparent. The links will take you to some informative videos for both children and adults that may be helpful. Again, if you have any questions around SATs, please do speak to your child's class teacher who will be able to help you.

Thank you for your continued support.

Best wishes,

Mr Djadali, Mr Clifton & Miss Bennett
