

Curiosity (Engagement)
 We will demonstrate curiosity when investigating the composition of rocks and soils.

Teamwork / Independence
 We will have opportunities to work in teams to research mountain life and to explore coding on Purple Mash. We will also have opportunities to work independently to create pieces of writing.

Resilience
 We will continue to focus on becoming resilient learners. For example, we will be using a variety of computer software to investigate the UK.

Empathy
 We will have opportunities to empathise with others that have lived in our local area and the UK both in the past and currently.

As mathematicians...	we will be building on our knowledge of place value to learn about number to 1000. We will also be reasoning and solving problems using our addition and subtraction skills.
As writers...	we will be deepening our understanding of conjunctions and prepositional phrases using the texts 'The Day the Crayons Quit' and 'Captain Flynn and the Pirate Dinosaurs'.
As citizens...	we will be reminding ourselves of our positive attributes and setting ourselves goals for the year ahead.
As scientists...	we will be learning about rocks and soils and using our investigative skills to understand the composition of different types of rocks.
As computing experts...	we will be reminding ourselves how to stay safe online. We will use Purple Mash to develop our coding skills.
As geographers...	we will be using atlases for find out about countries and mountain ranges within the UK and across the world. We will also be researching how mountains are formed and about life on the mountains.
As religious experts...	we will be learning about what prayer is and how and why Christians pray.
As artists...	we will be thinking about urban and rural areas to sketch and paint landscapes in different art styles.
As athletes...	we will be learning and practising the key skills needed for participating in the game of football. we will also be learning different positions, rolls, jumps and shapes to create sequences in gymnastics.
As musicians...	we will be composing phrases and improvising rhythms and sung phrases.
As linguists...	we will gain the confidence to speak and read at word level in a foreign language, compare and contrast the French and English language, find good strategies for remembering new vocabulary and learn the basic geography of France.
