

Worplesdon Primary School – Weekly Update

Friday 3rd February

Dear Parents / Carers,

The children have made us so proud this week. They have completed their Mock SATs with resilience and determination. In just a weeks' time they will have completed half of their final year at Worplesdon, time flies!

Anne Frank

We will be looking at the life of Anne Frank in both our History and English lessons over the coming weeks as part of our World War Two topic. As part of this, this week we have been watching excerpts of an adaptation of her diary. Whilst we only showed parts of the DVD and exercised discretion in what we showed, it will provide a fantastic opportunity for Writing by stepping into Anne's shoes and producing a diary entry as if they were her! We will be discussing with the children what Anne's life was like in our lessons next week and we look forward to seeing what amazing writing they produce!

Additionally, it has been wonderful to receive pictures and stories from some of you about your relative's experiences during WW2 – please keep them coming!

Mock SATs Scaled Scores

As stated above, the children have been absolutely amazing this week while sitting their mock SATs. We are aiming to analyse the data next week in order to send their scaled scores home before half term. In the meantime, here is the link should you need a reminder about how scaled scores work: <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/understanding-scaled-scores-at-key-stage-2>
