

Worplesdon Primary School – Weekly Update

January 5th 2024

Dear Parents / Carers,

Wow!

Back with a bang, and hasn't it just been wonderful to welcome the children back to school this week. 2024 just appeared out of nowhere! Shout out to everyone for bracing the early miserable mornings with grumpy tired children who just so desperately wish to stay snuggled in bed. The staff have loved listening to all of the magic that you pumped into your littlies worlds over the last two weeks.

Next week:

We begin our three week writing cycle on The Weather Monster next week, the children will begin by reading the story and orally rehearsing the events that take place. This week we have finished out addition and subtraction unit and will begin learning all things shape related next week. The children will identify 2D and 3D shapes and then investigate their properties. Our geography focus this term begins by making our own compasses and looking at maps. During art lessons we are going to be focusing on sculptures and excitingly we have a workshop in a couple of weeks where we will be building our own life size sculptures.

ABO:

- Year Two PE days will return to Thursday and Friday as of next week (week beginning 8th Jan)
