In English the children have been writing non-chronological reports about wolves. They have focused on grouping related information and joining clauses using conjunctions.

Next week the children will write their own version based upon Little Red Riding hood from the perspective of the wolf, they will change the characters and setting to really make it their own. In DT we will be finishing off our Bug Hotels by filling them with natural resources, these will come home ready for the Easter break, they can be kept in your own garden or left on a woodland walk.
